

It's Fudgyyy

UG | Fudgiest Brownie Makers | Pitch Deck

INSIGHT

UG MAKES, BAKES & COOKS
THE FUDGIEST BROWNIES. PERIOD!

OBJECTIVE

To make UG synonymous with “Fudgy,” this becomes our anchor campaign. Just like how saying “take a break” reminds people of KitKat, we want “fudgy” to instantly remind people of Uncle Goons.

Communication Line

Options:

1. The Fudgiest Brownie Makers
2. The Home of the Fudgiest Brownies
3. Born to Bake the Fudgiest Brownies
4. The Fudgiest Brownies Ever Made.
5. The World's Fudgiest Brownies.
6. Simply, the Fudgiest.

How will we rollout this campaign?

Phase 1.....

Our communication will begin by announcing a major milestone: UG is about to sell 1 MILLION brownies.

We will celebrate this milestone by building hype on social media using teasers, installing a board inside the store that shows the live brownie count, and announcing a special reward for our 1 millionth customer...

*possibly a lifetime brownie subscription.
(Reward to be closed by the brand)*

Board
Reference

This milestone will also be highlighted on:

- Packaging (special sticker)
- Instore branding (1 Million Brownies Sold & Counting)

Once the announcement is made, we won't let the excitement die down.

We'll connect the dots and jump straight into Phase 2.

Phase 2

This phase will act as the bridge between the “1 Million Brownies” milestone and our claim that we are the Fudgiest Brownie Makers.

As soon as the 1 millionth customer gets their brownie, we release a celebration video from the store: party poppers, cheering & hooting, a cheque being given, everything.

From here, we create city-wide buzz:

- We will start with a tying up with city pages who will create a spoof news report announcing that Surat has been hit with a Fudgy Virus
- A WhatsApp blast with a long “eeeeeeee” message or voice note
- A radio ad with a message that ends with Fudgyyyyyyyyy (so that the “eeeeee” stays in mind of the listener.)

Spoof News Ref

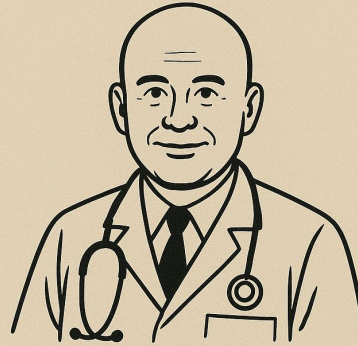

The solution for this Virus?
A clinic:

A 2D clinic at Uncle Goons
with a clinic signboard:

UNCLE JOHNNY CLINIC
चिकित्सालय

Where we will even hire a bald
doctor (IYKYK)

UNCLE JOHNNY CLINIC

FUDGIOLOGIST SPECIALIST
TREATS THE FUDGY VIRUS
SPECIALIST OF FUDGY

Then a day after the city pages cover the news... we will create a testimonial video with the fake bald doctor.

He explains the Fudgy Virus AND its cure... exactly what's printed on our brownie box: THE PRESCRIPTION.

We'll show B rolls of patients coming in, getting diagnosed, and being “prescribed” brownies.

..Phase 3.....

This phase directly connects to our film.

We start with a teaser:

God sitting in his office with a wall of televisions. As he is switching the channels, all he can hear is “eeeeee”

God tries to check the problem, he mutes, unmutes and at last switches of the TV.

CUT TO BLACK.

Release Date with a text

.....the ad film.....

The film shows different funny characters with distinct identities, all saying “eeeeeeee” - integrated into their daily lives.

Everything builds up until we reveal the God from the teaser.

He takes a bite of a brownie and simply says:
“Hmm. It’s actually Fudgyyyyyyyyyyyyyy”

...the aftermath.....

The ad film is not the final boss.
It is only the beginning.

“The Fudgiest Brownie Makers” becomes an evergreen communication line used across all our touchpoints:

- Instore branding (banners, certificates, counters)
- Packaging stickers
- A toothpick flag served with every brownie
- Social media posts, stories & topicals
- Billboards, newspaper ads etc. (when entering new cities)
- Paper bags (playlist + heating instructions + makers of fudgiest brownies+1 million and counting + microwaveable seal sticker)

..Influencer Collabs.....

To amplify the buzz, we'll collaborate with Surat-based creators to make short parody-style, meta, acting-led videos around the Fudgy Virus Outbreak. These pieces will instantly feel relatable, native, and humorous — perfect for short-form virality.

The content tone:

Local flavour + pop-culture reference + UG worldbuilding all stitched together with the “eeeeeeee / fudgy syndrome” narrative.

Here's how the content bucket will look:

1. Fake News Parody

Content:

“Haan dosto, ye baat bilkul sach hai ki Surat mein ek naya ‘virus’ phail chuka hai... aur pura duniya isse Fudgyyy Syndrome ke naam se jaanti hai.

Log roz din mein 5–6 Fudgy Brownies kha rahe hain.

Kehte hain ki ye toh drugs se bhi zyada dangerous cheez hai.

Savdhaan rahein, satark rahe!

2. Cigarette Ad Spoof

A voiceover goes:

“Iss shehar ko yeh hua kya?

Kahin Rakh hai, Toh kahi Nutella?”

People are Taking Brownie as Taking Drugs from the Pedlar.

3. Intellectual Podcast Parody

Two creators sit with mics, pretending to be serious social commentators.
They break down the “Fudgy Syndrome” like it’s a socio-economic crisis.

A - Pura seher main ye Fudgyyyyyeee Syndrome fail gaya hai, Koi toh hai iske picha jo ye virus faila raha hai.

B- Per tum Fudgy ko Fudgyyyyyeee kyu Bol raha ho

A - Kyunki woh Fudgyyyyyyyyye hai

B- Kya, Fudgyyyyyeee?

A- Take out the UG box and take one Bite, look into camera and says, Haan dosto ye Brownie Fudgyeee hai. Aur ab mein bhi iska shikar hu

4. Man look in the camera and says - (Just like Gutka mukesh ad) same tone every thing same.

“Pehle mein 5 brownies khata tha,

“Doctor ne kaha din main bas 3 brownie kahani hai din mein.”

Agar essa he chalta raha toh mein bhi Fudgy syndrome ka shikaar ho Jaunga

He looks into the camera and sighs dramatically...

then secretly takes out a brownie and eats it anyway.(Who care, I will eat this fuckin Brownie hone do Fudgyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyyy Syndrome)

5. “Aapko Fudgy Hua Hai Kya?” — Ad Replication Parody

This piece directly spoofs the iconic “Aapko kabs hai kya?” medicine ad — same tone, same energy, same over-serious delivery.

This can also be a spoof VOX POP video

Videos like these will be played out around the campaign, before or after the ad film — depending on the content flow.

They act as micro-storytelling pieces that expand the Fudgy Virus universe, keep Surat engaged, and build momentum for the main film.

. It's Fuing Addictive...

After this campaign, we launch a new episodic content series called:
“It's Fuing Addictive.”

A collection of mockumentary-style episodes showing people who are hopelessly addicted... to our brownies.

Every episode starts with a serious scenario and ends with the character giving in to the temptation of UG brownies.
