SEBURN

The logo takes inspiration from the name itself:

SIDEBURN

The dotted texture is inspired by the smouldering, burnt texture left behind when something burns, creating a visual connection between the name and the identity.

The full SIDEBURN wordmark establishes the brand, while SDBN acts as a compact logo mark, stripping the name down to its essential letters. It gives the brand a more distinctive, recognisable shorthand that can live independently across packaging, products and smaller brand touchpoints.

THE NOSE KNOWS

The cap takes inspiration from a dog's nose one of nature's most powerful tools for detecting scent.
With dogs having an exceptionally heightened sense of smell, the nose becomes a natural symbol for a fragrance brand.

Option-2

Siddeburn

The word "Sideburn" is written in a fluid, cursive script. The letters are a vibrant blue and have a soft, glowing aura around them, making them stand out against the dark background. The script is elegant and modern, with elongated letterforms.

The logo takes a visual cue from the name SIDEBURN itself. When something burns, it gradually narrows down, leaving behind a thinner, more concentrated form.

We translated that idea into the typography: a narrow, elongated letterform that gives the wordmark a distinctive silhouette while keeping the overall treatment modern and refined.

The script style adds a sense of character and attitude, while its sharper, elongated proportions give it a contemporary edge rather than a traditional or vintage feel.
